

ACCESS/PARKING:

- Pumping Station Road, 0.1 mile from Oscaleta Road on the left. [GPS Address: 35 Pumping Station Road]

DIFFICULTY: Easy, with one rocky intermittent-stream crossing. 1 hour.

FEATURES: A hemlock/hardwood forest and wetland with two streams, a view of a pond, and plentiful wildflowers in Spring. The trail leads across a bridge over the stream along the road and then through a hemlock forest along a marsh. After crossing another stream, it leads through a hardwood forest to a wooded knoll before ending 0.5 mile at a meadow around a pond (private property) on the New York State line.

HISTORY: Acquired by subdivision.

